

LÁSZLÓ GÖRBEDI

In 1994 he graduated from the Faculty of Civil Engineering of BME as a hydraulic engineer. Subsequently he also graduated as an economist.

He started his career in small design and construction companies, then worked as a project manager at the Budapest Sewerage Works, where he was involved in the implementation of the Budapest projects.

In the early 2000s he was responsible for the preparation of the largest wastewater treatment plant in Central Europe, and 16 years ago he joined Colas Alterra Zrt. as Chief Business Engineer.

In 2010, he was appointed CEO of the company. After more than 10 years as a manager in a multinational company, he changed to become the CEO of Mészáros & Mészáros Zrt.

Throughout his career he has worked in the industry with foreign and Hungarian partners.